

Kwong Wah Hospital

Kwong Wah Hospital, founded in 1911, is one of the major acute hospital of Hong Kong's Kowloon Central Cluster. To facilitate the provision of modern patient services for meeting future healthcare needs of the community, the redevelopment project has been carried out to enhance hospital operational efficiency. The project involves construction of new hospital block in two phases, with possible A&A works. The project is constructed by Hospital Authority and consulted by WSP.
